Areas of interest on coffee genomics (please check all that apply)

1. Diversity characterization, high through put phenotyping, enhanced utilization and conservation of genetic resources in Coffea for climate change adaptation _____
2. Saturation of a high density reference genetic map of coffee (on going) and association mapping to provide advanced genomic tools needed for genetic improvement of coffee _____
3. Coffee Genome Sequencing (on going) and community gene annotation _____
4. Functional Genomics (transcriptomics, gene validation, etc.) _____
5. Bioinformatics: Coordinated international effort to integrate data and tools generated, and to promote data dissemination _____
6. List new areas and projects of interest to help promote regional networks and specific projects of interest that could be funded more easily if approached as a community with support from ICO

7. Help promote and support the organization of scientific meetings on coffee genomics, in order to facilitate the exchange of knowledge and to promote training opportunities for genomic data use and dissemination _____

8. Other _____

List specific project(s) of interest that could be developed in the frame of ICGN and ICO:

Lists types of project(s) you would be interested on helping coordinate within ICGN?

Please also add your suggestions or comments regarding future network organization and Steering Committee organization

Please provide suggestions on what information you would like to see included in our ICGN www page <http://www.coffeegenome.org>:

Additional Comments: _____

Do you have any other expectations from ICGN? _____

Thank you for your input,

The ICGN
Steering Committee

Once you complete this survey please review your current information in the ICGN www site and resubmit an updated application if you need to update your contact information. If you are not a member but are currently in our mailing list, please register as member on line at: <http://www.coffeegenome.org/about/members.php> by filling out the individual and/or Institutional application forms.

Please send survey responses via e-mail to the ICGN secretariat (my11@cornell.edu) or to the Chair of the Steering Committee (philippe.lashermes@ird.fr), or to your regional Steering Committee member or ICGN contact. The survey results will be summarized by the Steering Committee, e-mailed to survey participants, and posted in the web site (<http://www.coffeegenome.org>). We look forward to your input through this survey.
